Olds Family Endowment Outstanding Student Teacher Award

The Olds family of Nacogdoches, Texas established an Endowment Fund to provide an award each semester for the outstanding student teacher in the Department of Elementary Education. Each fall and spring semester this is awarded to a nominated student teacher.

The outstanding student teacher selected for this award receives

- $100
- Certificate of Award
- Recognition at end of semester student teaching banquet and/or Life-Long Learning Conference.
- Press releases will be sent to hometown media and Nacogdoches area media.
- Name on plaque on the second floor of the Early Childhood Research Center.
- Announcement on the electronic display boards in the Early Childhood Research Center.

Student teachers are to be nominated by their field supervisors. Nomination packets are to be completed and returned to the Department of Elementary Education a minimum of 3 weeks before the end of the semester. Nomination forms, requirements and process will be emailed to all university field supervisors. These can also be found in each of the ELE 442 classes.

Selection of the recipient(s) of the Olds Family Award shall be the responsibility of the Department of Elementary Education under the supervision of the departmental chair in accordance with established procedures for selecting the outstanding student teacher.

The pages that follow provide specific instructions for nominating an outstanding student teacher for the award.

Ideas for videotaping:

1. Wait 5-8 seconds after the videotape begins to present the introduction – important information is often cut off of the videotape. Record your introduction prior to including the students in your lesson presentation.
2. Introduction: Tell a little about the lesson during the introduction; tell how you pre-assessed the students or about lessons that provided background experience, skills and knowledge for the lesson being presented.
3. Be sure to show the students so we can see if they are actively engaged in the lesson.
4. Remember to include the closure on the videotape; many student teachers forget this part.

Judging the Lesson Presentation:

- Presentation can serve as a model of excellence for future student teachers
- Lesson plans and objective appropriate for students
- Students learned the objectives
- Instructional materials were appropriate and stimulating
- Students were actively engaged in the learning process
- Teacher reinforced student learning
- Teacher showed skill in questioning
- Teacher used concrete words and examples to communicate ideas to students
- Time use was effective; instructional time was appropriate
- Teacher induced enthusiasm
- Teacher responded effectively to student behavior
- Atmosphere of trust (risk taking) was established
- Mutual respect was exhibited
- Communication was effective
- Teacher was professionally dressed
- Teacher demonstrated care and commitment to children
- Teacher showed consideration for student comfort and physical needs
